

Some think there is not much rocket science in van bodies.

Freight Plate is the exception and warrants your attention.

-  Every U.S. Postal Service straight truck you see in service today is constructed of DuraPlate® material.
-  Hundreds of thousands of DuraPlate construction trailers are on the road in service today.
-  DuraPlate construction has come to van body construction with a cost point that rivals sheet and post construction.
-  Graphic installation is easier and the body has a fastener free, smooth skin appearance.
-  This is the most cubic space / footprint available in a van body today!
-  Freight Plate has the brightest, cleanable, interior surface available.
-  We are so confident about Freight Plate we will warranty the panel material construction for 10 Years* against failure!
